THE BLACK SHEEP is the feel-good literary surprise of the year for all Ole Vik fans.

This is the book Jørgen Jæger dreamed up one night back in the 1980s. Here, Ole Vik and Cecilie Hopen come to life for the very first time in the fictional town of Fjellberghavn. The novel has never been published—until now.

For years, the manuscript has sat on Jæger's hard drive as book zero in this popular series. So welcome back to the 1980s—where landlines, tech anxiety, fax machines, and the first car phones ruled the day. Forget the smoking ban, the prohibition of handheld phones while driving, and a world without the Internet, Facebook, Twitter, or smartphones. Experience the very first glimpse into police chief Ole Vik's universe in Fjellberghavn.

Jørgen Jæger

With over 1.7 million copies sold, Jørgen Jæger ranks among Norway's bestselling crime authors. His series about the highly respected police chief Ole Vik and his adept detective Cecilie Hopen is also an international success with more than 60 international rights sold. Jæger has been nominated five times for the prestigious Norwegian Bookseller Award — a testament to his enduring popularity with both readers and booksellers alike. The book series is also being adapted for television, with a premiere set for 2026.
